1 Burris unveils its Eliminator LaserScope. The 4-12x42mm Eliminator LaserScope features an integrated 800 yard rangefinder coupled with a simple, yet accurate, trajectory compensation capability that can be customized to virtually any cartridge. The Eliminator has 39 ballistic curves on board and Burris provides a listing of nearly 600 factory loaded cartridges and ballistic curve number associated with each. A few clicks in the set up mode is all it takes to enter or change the ballistic curve to perfectly match cartridge performance. A button to activate the laser is located on the left side of the scope. In addition, Burris provides a remote activator that can be strapped to the rifle's forearm. Contact Burris at (970) 356-1670 or visit www.burrisoptics.com.

2 The Mathews Passion has been designed specifically for female archers. The Passion features an axle-to-axle length of just 29.75 inches and weighs only 3.6 pounds. Available draw lengths from 27.5 to 29 inches and peak draw weights from 40 to 70 pounds fill a void in high-end bows that female archers have always faced. It has a 6-inch brace height and produces speeds up to 325 fps at 29 inches and 70 pounds. The Passion is styled just for women, with intricate limb patterns and three elegant color schemes, including a camouflage version. 3 IMR Legendary Powders introduces 8208 XBR propellant. This powder is perfect for highly accurate match, varmint and sniper rounds such as .223 Rem./5.56mm, 308 Win./7.62mm, 6mm PPC, .204 Ruger, 6mm BR, .22-250 Rem. and similar calibers. This short-grain extruded rifle powder exhibits virtually no change in velocity at temperatures ranging from minus 40 degrees to more than 165 degrees F. Uniformity from shot to shot translates into tack-driving accuracy. It is available in 1-pound canisters and 8-pound kegs for reloaders everywhere. Contact IMR at (913) 362-9455 or visit www.imrpowder.com.

4 Wildgame Innovations IR4 game camera is easy to operate, has extended battery life and exceptional trigger speed. The 4.0 megapixel camera features 16MB onboard memory, an infrared flash and a large LCD programming screen. A USB cable and bungee cords for mounting are included. Contact Wildgame Innovations at (800) 847-8289 or visit www.wildgameinnovations.com.

5 Advanced Technology International announces a new generation of shotgun hunting stocks and forends. ATI's New Adjustable Hunting Stock adjusts in four positions — from 123/8 to 143/8 inches — with one push of a button. The incorporated neoprene cheek rest and recoil-reducing butt pad with non-slip surface, offer added comfort when shooting. Interchangeable grips allow hunters to put a personal touch on the stock. The forend has been ergonomically tailored with a non-slip grip for added confidence. This DuPont Reinforced Polymer shotgun stock and forend fit the 12- and 20-gauge Remington 870, Maverick 88, Winchester 1200/1300 and Mossberg 500/590 models. Contact ATI at (800) 925-2522 or visit www.ATIGunstocks.com
